Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 8 and 10 the phrase "in the shape of a human foot" defines the pad in reference to an undefined element rendering the claim vague and indefinite. It is not clear what structural limitations applicant intends to encompass with such language.

Claim 9 is solely functional and it is not clear what structural limitaitons applicant intends to encompass with such language. There has been no additional structure claimed in this claim which would result in the claimed function.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
>
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Gardner (4862605).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gardner.

Gardner discloses the claimed invention except for the exact thickness of the insert pad. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the pad 3/16 inch thick, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

6. Claims 3-6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gardner in view of Fisher (5611153).

Gardner shows an insert pad made of foam with planar surfaces substantially as claimed except for the exact foam material. Fisher teaches the use of polyethylene vinyl acetate foam with a density of between 2 and 35 pounds per cubic foot for an insert pad. It would have been obvious to use the material taught by Fisher in the pad of Gardner to provide adequate shock absorbing properties.
